Policy statement

Appeals and complaints policy

Appeals related to the exam

In order to ensure the security of the IFPA-CPFT Assessment Instrument, no one is permitted to review any Item on the Exam with any candidate. Neither the Proctor, or IFPA Test Department Personnel nor anyone else at the IFPA is permitted to discuss any specific Item. Candidates will be notified of the sections of the Exam with which they had the most difficulty. Candidates can submit an IFPA Exam Discrepancy Form if they feel there was any confusing Item on the Exam or in the Testing Environment. If the candidate feels that he or she was disadvantaged by any aspect of the Exam process or that there was improper behavior by a Proctor, another candidate, or anyone or anything in and around the Exam area, the candidate may fill out an Appeals Form and the IFPA-CC Appeals Subcommittee will investigate the incident.

Appeals regarding any issue related to the exam are dealt with IFPA in the United States according to their policies and procedures.

In respect of the practical assessment or other aspects of the course the following will apply:

Areas for Appeal

Learners can appeal against an assessment decision relating to the marking of the practical assessment

Grounds for Appeal

An appeal may be made if:

- The assessment was not conducted in accordance with the providers regulations
- Medical or other extenuating circumstances arose during the assessment process which affected the learner's performance
- There was inappropriate or irregular behavior on the part of the assessor

Appeals Procedure

- The learner should firstly discuss the reason for the appeal with the Assessor or Internal Quality Assurer (if possible) on the day of the assessment
- If this does not resolve the appeal the learner should make a written appeal and submit to the Internal Quality Assurer within 5 days from the date of the assessment – include any supporting evidence
- The Internal Quality Assurer will investigate the appeal and respond in writing within 7 working days
- If the learner is not satisfied with the result they may make ICREPs aware of the situation as the quality assurance provider and it may be taken up with the provider as part of the QA process.

Complaints about any aspect of the course should be made in writing to the main contact at IFPA UAE who will investigate and respond in writing to the complainant. IFPA UAE will support the applicant by sending their appeal to IFPA USA on behalf of the student.
